After years of cakewalk judging here it was left to Harry Hoy of Morristown to devise a simple method of pleasing all factions, that of cutting the cake into pieces and distributing them among the couples. This was after about 600 persons had been equally divided between the merits being the owner of valuable property in the town and on the Orange and Caloosala an After years of cakewalk judging here it | winter. equally divided between the merits of a little fat man in wide skirts who stood on his head and spun like a top and a darky, small of figure, silk hatted, long coated and with a dapper cane and lots of action. Waiter J. Travis, last year's winner of the Lake Worth golf tournament, was on hand to defend his title in this year's tourney, which began Monday. Mr. Travis brought from Asheville an amusing story about Volter Longley, like himself one of the first grade players. A new professional there got Longley to change his style of grip while several of Longley's friends looked on from the first tee. The drive was not more than 175 yards.

"There!" exclaimed the "pro," greatly pleased with himself. "I bet you never drove a ball like that before."

John D. Crimmins a few days ago gave what might be classed as expert testimony that a shark does not turn on its back or side when feeding. The statement was made just after Mr. Crimmins had returned in a small boat from the Gulf Stream, where a school of sharks had charged his craft when his boatman lanced one of the fish which Mr. Crimmins had harpooned. The fish, Mr. Crimmins said, were about ten feet long, which is not above normal
